you will agree with me, that the heaviest clogs on the wheel of civilization and the Religion of Christ are Rum Opium and Tobacco. I battle Tobacco as best I can and design to do so till I die.

I send you specimens of Tracts I have published more than one hundred; do overhaul them a little, and then take your pen, and tell the public in the Independent just what you think of them. I am done puffing the deed, and am too old to wish to be puffed. Hence I ask for plain truth.

Our National Young Men's Christian Association played the fool at Detroit as you will see by my "critique" and they think me merciless and strange in handling them. Dear young creatures! I wonder if their Mothers knew they were so far from home as Detroit.
Yours truly G. D. Trask
